West Indians and their Language - Peter A. Roberts ... Peter A. Roberts gives another definition of the term in his book West Indians and Their Language. He argues that Creole languages are “the result of the contact between English, French, Spanish, Portuguese, Dutch (‘languages of the colonising people’) and West African languages (‘languages of a colonised people’)” 2. This phenomenon is the reason for him that many words in Creole languages have a strong resemblance to certain written or spoken words in European languages.
